Professor and Head of Department of Medicine, Faculty of Medicine Consultant, Physician Teaching Hospital, Peradeniya.

I am indeed honoured to join the staff and students of Good Shepherd Convent, Kandy as the Chief Guest of their Annual Prize Giving. First, I thank the organizing committee for inviting me, as this is the first time I am participating in an event as Chief Guest.

When growing up, I spent three years of my life at Our Lady's Convent, Nuwara Eliya. Therefore, I strongly admire and appreciate the services rendered by the sisters and teachers who produce strong, capable young ladies to the society.

I am also a father of two daughters. One of them was placed first in the Arts Stream at the G.C.E. A/L examination 2016. I strongly believe that your school encourages the students to be strong in making decisions and committing themselves totally to their work. Further, I also believe that your school encourages harmony between daughters of different ethnic groups and religions, a lesson I learnt from my days at Our Lady's Nuwara Eliya.

I learnt most of my life skills at St Thomas' Guruthalawa, a school with similar principles as yours, so I can imagine what benefits your school will bring upon your students, as productive citizens of this country in the future.

As a parent, I am so proud of the cornucopia of talent in Good Shepherd Convent, Kandy and I wish the staff and students the best of luck in their future endeavours.

Though he is not here with us, I remember him with joy and gratitude and express my heartfelt gratitude to him, for his guidance extended to us at all times.

Very Rev. Fr. Milroy Fonseka, Vicar General and Manager of Catholic Schools, we are greatly honoured by your presence. You commit yourself whole-heartedly to the welfare of the school. You inspire us with your presence at all our school functions, addressing parents, teachers and students. We extend a very warm welcome to you Father.

I am happy to present the report in the presence of this distinguished gathering. The purpose of holding a Prize Giving is not only to commend the students for their achievements, but also to re-assess the progress of the school in relation to its objectives. This year, I focus attention and concentrate on our school, teachers and our students. My purpose is to highlight the need of a school in modern times

The quality of education in schools is dependant on the performance of teachers and the role played by the principal in inspiring the teachers and getting their co-operation. The primary responsibility rests with the teacher who needs to comply with the school administration and reach out to students effectively. It is imperative that the Principal as the leader of the learning institution responds to the expectations and needs of the teacher, in order to provide quality education to students.

A positive and supportive relationship between the two groups will make it feasible for teachers to express themselves without fear of negative consequences. This will make teachers feel safe to make mistakes, ask for help and take risks and give them the assurance that there is respect for their role and that their triumphs and trials are validated. As a consequence there will be greater academic progress.

The working relationship in a school, needs to go beyond the surface level. It should be based on deep trust and respect. Respect includes a positive regard for individuals and their work. If there is mutual trust, there will be support and the teaching task will be easily accomplished.

It is also important that the Principal empowers teachers who can be positive leaders and these leaders must provide an environment that fosters respect and co-operation between the teachers and the administrators. In addition, the Principal should support teachers by providing opportunities for professional growth. The Principal should also empower teachers to get involved in decision making.

Relationships have many components, both individual and group which add value to a teaching environment. It is vital that inter-personal relationships between administrators and staff members be fostered through communication and supportive behaviour thus creating a positive working environment in the school. This would make the role of the principal easier, in setting directions, planning, organizing, motivating and balancing the tasks for the betterment of the school.

The responsibility of building trust among teachers is not the sole task of the principal, the support of the teachers is also vital. Relationships should be collegial and congenial. There can also be adverse relationships. When adverse relationships are rampant in a school, derogatory remarks, divisive trends, pulling in different directions and forming cliques will be evident, with dire consequences.

Congenial relationships are interactive and based on personal and friendly relations, providing moral support to one another and engaging in work, in a spirit of joy. This will enhance their ability to work effectively.

Collegial relationships are the hardest to establish. The famous baseball manager Casey Stengel once said, 'Getting players is easy. Getting them to play is the hardest part'. Collegial relationships among administrators and teachers can be established in a school, when all members share knowledge, observe one another, learn from their experiences and applaud the success of others.

A healthy working environment will create teacher satisfaction which is of prime importance for the efficiency that can be achieved in the school. A teacher who is not satisfied with work will perform poorly and have a negative impact on the students which in turn will affect the over-all efficiency of the school.

Job satisfaction is important as it contributes to organized learning and effective teaching. This is crucial, for, the students themselves are ultimately affected; their social, emotional, intellectual development and academic success is impaired. Teachers who do not enjoy the support of their colleagues will be less motivated to give their best in the classroom. Teachers who are happy and content with their job are not likely to change the institution where they work or change their profession.

We cannot under estimate the importance of the continual professional development of our teachers. This is especially so, in this era of increasing demands on teachers' expertise with higher expectations for their accomplishments. It is a challenge that teachers face, as there are at present, demands for more vigorous standards. In addition, the re-structuring of school, as well as the inclusion of more practical methods to accommodate an increasingly diverse student population, becomes necessary. These are realistic challenges for teachers, and to cope with this situation, an emotionally supportive environment, based on collegial instructions is imperative.

This is what we at Good Shepherd Convent strive to achieve, in our efforts to improve student performances in our school.

To put these thoughts in a nut-shell, the school can be compared to a mobile phone, with a cell within, which facilitates many possibilities – send out and receive messages, share, call, inform, direct, store, diffuse, endless considerations.

Think about it. There are many apps in a mobile cell, according to what is needed they can be put to maximum use. It works according to what our necessity is.

The school community can be thus compared to a cell in a mobile, where everyone can work harmoniously, effectively by fostering inter-persona' relationships, be connected to each other for the benefit of all.

It is also good to remember that each one has more potential than an app in a mobile cell, as we are humans and alive. So why not put ourselves together and work harmoniously for the betterment of our school.

There are viral apps too within a cell. They can drag and demolish all apps. This is a reminder to us, not to be destroyed by what is viral. It is up to us to keep the network strong and not be unworthy of our vocation of teaching. Together we can protect and build our educational institution, a place of renown, moving into the present century with more grace and knowledge.

All our activities and achievements in the school have been shaped by this vision. In the vibrant school environment of Principal, administrators, teachers, parents, students and other social entities, the need is to share, grow, learn, understand, interact, love and live in an intensely instructional environment. Just as a cell in a mobile does multiple tasks and works efficiently, teachers play a decisive role to empower our students, their future and the future of our nation.

All our activities and achievements in the school have been shaped by this vision. I leave you with these thoughts and invite you to look at the Prize Giving booklet for further information.

You are also welcome to google the website and get comprehensive details. Finally, you can watch the screen as the video clips will give you insight into the school activities.

Academic Staff

The Wind beneath the Wings . . . . .

The staff of Good Shepherd Convent, Kandy is wholly dedicated to their vocation of teaching their students with enthusiasm and commitment.

The environment of the school, set on beautiful Mount Leo, with an abundance of nature is conducive to great learning. In a rich and varied background of religious, cultural, ethnic and linguistic multiplicity, the teachers live and work together, sharing universal experiences. It is this multiplicity that contributes to the enrichment of the staff, students and the school, in the teaching learning process.

I am happy to say that my teachers are well-equipped with soft skills that enable them to get the maximum output from their students. They have developed communication skills, a strong work ethic, including motivation and determination, emotional intelligence, team work and leadership, and graciousness that makes the learning process easier, enjoyable and also life-long.

As Principal, I understand that as the school is dedicated to the spiritual enrichment of the students, it is like a star on top of the mountain, beckoning young girls to join the school. Many parents wish to admit their children to the school, but we are not in a position to accommodate everyone. We strive and do our utmost to give the best opportunities and possibilities to the students with us.

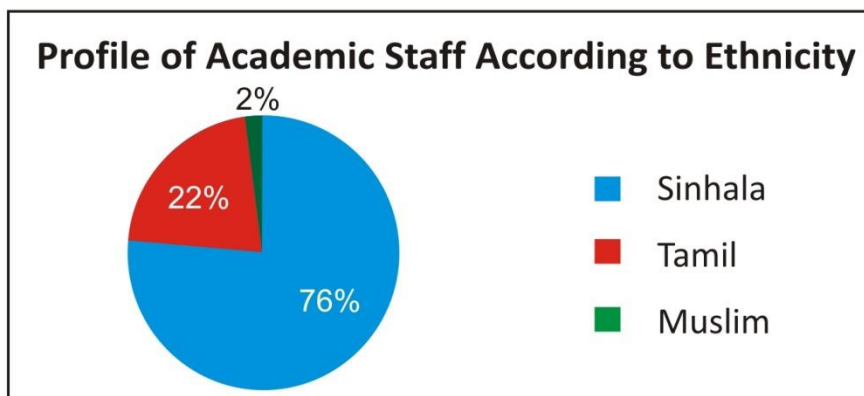

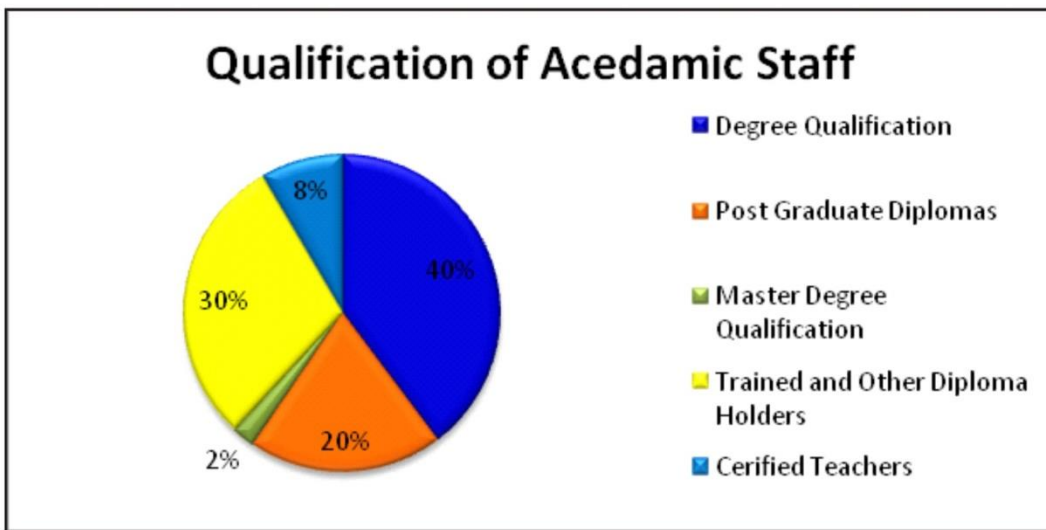

The efforts of the teachers have helped to bring out the core values in our students. Wherever they go, they shine, even before their real abilities are brought out. They are seen with integrated values of honesty, integrity, devotion to work and other graces which are the marks of true Shepherdians.

The school is like a garden. Each child is unique. When the children go into the world, they will enrich the world with their fragrance. So the preparatory work is done in the school, and the role of the teacher becomes very important.

One of the basic purposes of education is to enhance the boundaries of one's perception. Students are in the school with the teachers and after thirteen years of schooling, they must bloom wherever they go. To achieve this, the children must develop physically, emotionally, mentally and spiritually and need to be life-long learners, who live joyfully, without fear and prejudice.

Students should try to enhance their personalities and pursue their education. The teacher needs to give the students necessary confidence and openness to understand themselves and exhibit strength and gracefulness in any situation.

Special attention needs to be focused on teachers who work after school hours to help our children with extra-curricular activities and also help weak students so that they may achieve success. I am grateful to them.

Silver Jubilee

I congratulate the seven teachers who have completed 25 years of teaching at Good Shepherd Convent, Kandy. They have served with commitment and given their best to the school and the betterment of our students. We thank and praise God for their devotion.

They have paved the way and our young teachers should follow in their foot-steps and commit themselves to work so that in the years to come, they will be able to maintain the high standards of the school and reach a place of distinction and recognition, just as these teachers have done.

The Primary Section

Every little thing is of great importance, right from the beginning. The children too, feel the same way as they participate and contribute to the activities in the school.

Together with the Primary Sectional Head Sr. Jayamani Rodrigo and the dedicated teachers, we were able to contribute much, to maintain the educational standards and uphold the 5'S system during the past year.

The primary students had their academic and extra-curricular activities. Each event was celebrated with enthusiasm.

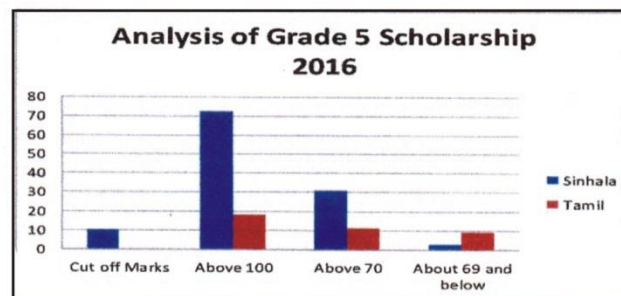

Attention was focused on the Grade 5 Scholarship examination. A number of revision workshops were conducted by experienced tutors. The students gained knowledge and understanding which helped them to perform successfully.

In September 2016, a concert "Shining Stars" was staged. It was a colourful performance with songs and dances.

Twenty three Little Friends and 89 Butterflies were enrolled. These students from Grade One to Four are exposed to many learning experiences.

The primary students enjoy themselves participating in the extra-curricular activities made available by the school. Some of them are the primary Western Band, Little Friends, Table Tennis, Chess and Primary Choir.

Secondary Section

The Grade 5 students enter the collegiate school and so it is a crucial stage in their lives as they encounter new beginnings, challenges and move into a new environment. They experience mixed feelings of joy, expectation and even shyness and confusion. The teacher's role becomes very important and the school has created a conducive atmosphere and provided teachers who devote themselves to understand, listen and help the students. The religious background provides spirituality and in an open friendly environment, the transition takes place and the students find joy and contentment.

The students in the secondary section are from Grades 6 to 11. They are the most active group of students in extra-curricular activities. Yet the teachers ensure that they focus their attention on education.

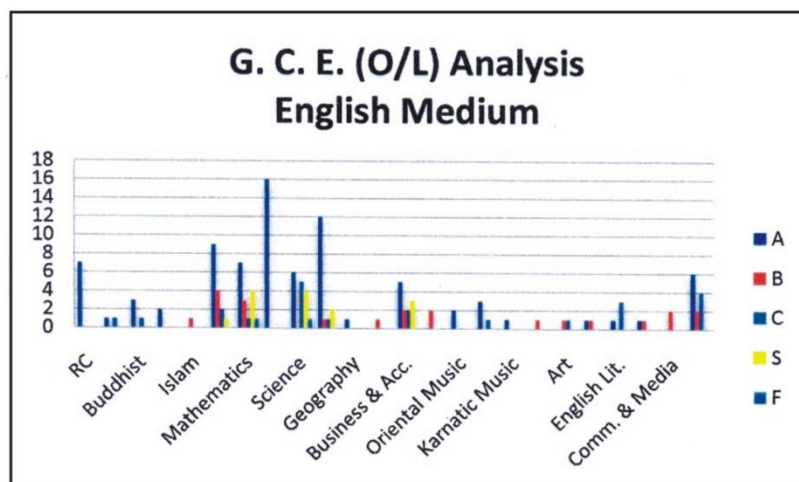

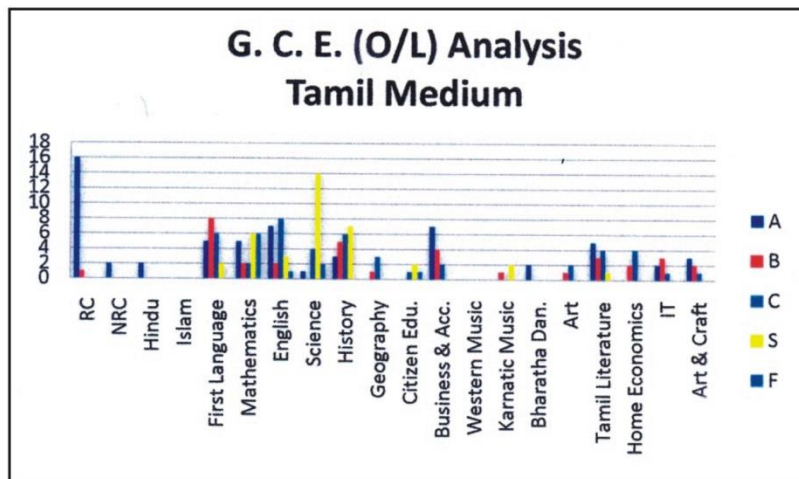

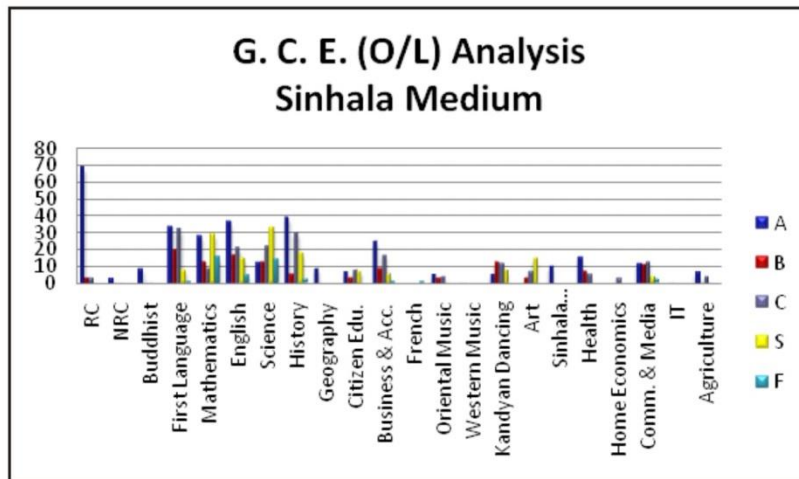

The Grade 10 and 11 students were made to focus on their upcoming O/L examinations and were given assistance in their studies.

The school has given many opportunities to both students and parents for inter-communication which help them share their ideas and views for their own benefit and for the betterment of the school. Moreover, they learn the true leadership qualities of the Good Shepherd.

Some of them have turned these opportunities into turning points in their lives. It is rewarding to hear that they have been doing very well in all the activities in their respective parishes and obtained good results at the G. C. E. (O/L) examination.

The A/L Section A description of activities 2016

The school ensures that the students spend the final two years of their school life in a meaningful manner which will help them to achieve their future objectives.

Priority was given to the A/L examination, and a number of seminars and revision workshops were organized. Students also attended lectures organized by Educational Institutes and schools in the neighbourhood.

As students had completed their two years in the Advanced Level Classes, they developed very outgoing personalities. They were given many opportunities to interact with the society and this enabled them to gain knowledge on current issues. Thus it is possible for them to plan their future before they leave school, make their choices for higher studies, career guidance, professional training etc. This paves the way for them to manage time, and aim at obtaining adequate grades to suit their future plans.

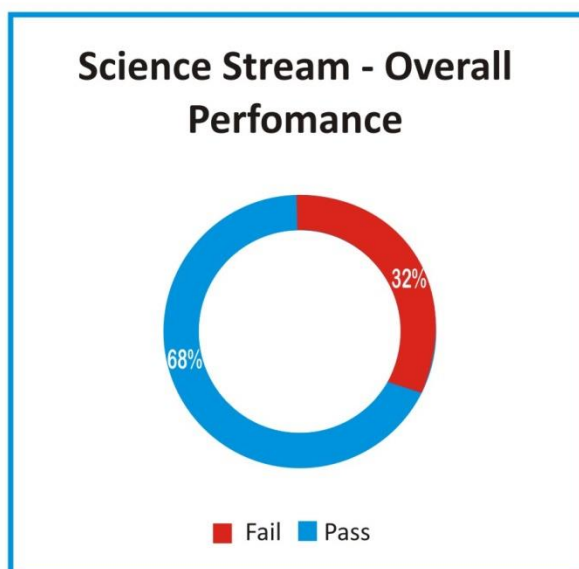

The Teachers of the Advanced Level section should be commended very specially for their concern, love and keen attention bestowed on their students when they needed support, understanding and motherly care.

Education and Productivity

Good education imparts knowledge and skills but it has to be done in the context of a sound sense of values based on faith. Unlike wealth and power, education is something which can be shared without loss to ourselves, indeed with considerable gain.

The earth, the environment, children and their abilities and talents are gifted by God and He expects us to develop and avail these resources of His great creation in a productive way because God wants these benefits to be preserved for the future.

Our students learn and practice these values through the productivity vision of our school. It gives them the basic knowledge and understanding to nurture and cherish the environment, where they live.

We cultivate in them values such as Character productivity, Environment productivity, Health and sustenance productivity, Educational productivity and Spiritual productivity through which they gain success in life.

Extra Mile

We go an extra mile with our students. We understand that God had empowered us to make a difference in their lives in many ways. Extra time spent with a problem child, sharing positive thoughts, encouraging her and never hesitating to give a call to her parents and make matters easy for her may cause hundred miracles to happen in her life. We need to walk the extra mile.

As the Principal, I spend time walking round the school, observing, listening and making a note of what is going on. I am then, aware of the opportunities and the drawbacks in various situations and think of ways and means of improving and providing necessary facilities, and changes I give the message to the children that I am there for them

Road to future leadership

“Lead thy self a leader” is the motto that the school strives to cultivate in students through many opportunities provided to them to promote their leadership. Through these opportunities they learn to face challenges and be a channel for leadership.

The school provides opportunities for all the students to build their leadership skills by exercising their leadership abilities through different societies, clubs, extra-curricular and core-curricular activities. Students are given equal opportunities to participate in leadership development programmes and workshops to improve their skills not only within the school, but also outside the school.

A Platform for everyone . . . . .

The choir participates in all the major events of the school Prize Giving, public concerts, feast day programmes, celebration of the Holy Eucharist and the Annual Choir Festival organized by the Ceylon Bible Society held in the Trinity College, Chapel.

There are two choirs. The Primary and the Senior Choir.

Two major events in the school calendar are the Easter programme and the Carol service. In the year 2016, the Easter programme was "His Mercy Endureth Forever" and carol service "A man called Joseph and A child named Jesus", which was dedicated to His Lordship Rt. Rev. Dr. Vianney Fernando, Bishop of Kandy, who completes 50 years as the Shepherd of Kandy.

The Easter programme and the Carol service are two intensely spiritual experiences, based on faith with the purpose of spreading God's message of love to everyone.

The school provides ample opportunities for students to participate in dramas in English, Sinhala, Tamil and French. The plays of William Shakespeare, Anton Chekhov, Fredrico Garcia Lorca, Bertolt Brecht, The Ramayana have been staged.

In addition during Easter and Christmas biblical characters come alive on stage in intense and spiritual experiences of the Gospel. ## Sports

Sports and athletics are an integral part of the school curriculum. They help to promote a variety of positive, wholesome values, and play a significant role in promoting team work, fair play, fun, enjoyment and respect for others along with physical fitness and other health benefits.

The school has made provision for many sports. The students should make their choice and enjoy the benefits.

Chess

Was first introduced in the 1990's and was in abeyance for some years. It has been re-introduced and with a new coach instructor, students are encouraged to indulge in this mentally challenging and exciting game.

Cricket

Was introduced recently. With the growing trend of 'Cricket for Women' – globally and locally, our students can surely benefit and enjoy this game bequeathed to us by the English.

Table Tennis

The game was introduced in the 80's and remains a popular game. Many students have excelled and won places at National level.

.Basketball

The Basketball court was put up in 1986. The construction of the Basketball court in the school premises is a great boon to our students. So, students should make use of this facility and enjoy the benefits of the game

Netball

The game was introduced in the 1950's and has continued to be popular to date. There are four teams in the school, under 13, 15, 17 and 19. The teams participate annually in the Zonal Netball tournaments, the Milo matches and the Inter-house matches. Friendly matches are played between staff and students on Teachers' Day and Childrens' Day which is usually a joint celebration.
